Exceptional Senior Living

If you're looking for more than just a place to live, then Brookdale Collin Oaks is the place for you. Retirement is the time to indulge yourself, live purposefully and re-ignite some of those passions that got left by the wayside throughout the years. At our community in Plano, Texas, which offers assisted living and Alzheimer's and dementia care services, we're here to help you live your best life.

As an assisted living resident, you can maintain your independence and vibrant lifestyle while receiving the daily personal assistance you need. Should your needs change over time, and you require memory care, you have the security of knowing you can remain in your home without leaving behind familiar surroundings and close friendships. You'll feel right at home with pet-friendly apartments and cozy common areas throughout our community. And there's always the security of knowing that our staff is on-site 24 hours a day, seven days a week to be alerted to an emergency.
